Important Buyer Notes

Note 1: Weigh the coach with full fuel and water. Weight distribution should remain balanced side-to-side.

Note 2: Tire manufacturing dates should always be reviewed. Older tires may fail even with good tread.

Note 3: Tire pressure should be set according to the RV manufacturer and tire load chart.

Note 4: Used RVs should receive a professional chassis inspection including engine, transmission, brakes, shocks, hydraulic systems, and exhaust.

Note 5: Roof seal failures and water intrusion are among the most expensive RV repairs and should never be ignored.
